Memorial Methodist Church Activities

The Men's Chorus will present special selections during the Evening Worship service at 7:30 o'clock, and the minister will begin a Series of Messages on the Beatitudes, using for the first subject, "The Poor in Spirit." This service is very important as it marks the last services of the Eleven Month Period of the Current Conference Year, which closes May 31st. The Virginia Annual Conference will convene in Fredericksburg, Virginia, on the Campus of Mary Washington College of the University of Virginia, beginning at 1:30 P. M., on June 13, and closing with the Reading of the Appointments Thursday noon, the 16th. All members are urged to do their very best to make this Conference Year one of the very best in the long history of Memorial, by participating generously in the Total Program of the Church.

The Chapel Choir will sing, "No Other Way," by Fluegge, at the morning worship service, and the minister will have for the evening all services held in the church. This will be an historic service among the many stirring events of the Memorial membership. The Board of Trustees will officially receive the initial payment for the sale of the Church Property to the Eastern Virginia Conference of the Pentecostal Holiness Church, and will at the same time announce important and significant procedures to be followed in the future. Every member of Memorial is urged to be present for this historical service.

The Memorial Membership is busy now planning for the Anniversary Home-Coming Service to be held in the Church Sanctuary May 22nd., with Dr. George S. Reamey, Editor of the Virginia Methodist Advocate, as guest speaker. The Memorial Church was established on Church Street, in 1899, under the pastorate of the Reverend P. M. Bell, at a cost of $1,800.00, and was at that time a part of the Appomattox Circuit. In 1906, the Church became a Station Appointment, with a full-time pastor, the Reverend L. F. Callabam. During the pastorate of the Reverend G. M. Bishop, the building was complete-
